- Letters to the Editor should address an article previously published in the journal.—maximum of 500 words with not tables or figures.

MANUSCRIPT SUBMISSION

Online submission is required. All authors should submit their manuscript at:
<https://mc.manuscriptcentral.com/lgbtq>.

Before submitting any manuscript, please sure that the manuscript is prepared according to the most recent Publication Manual by the American Medical Association (AMA). Authors should also verify that all tables, graphs, and figures as cited in the text are included and prepared according to AMA style.

Finally, authors should check to make sure that all references included in the text are accurate and consistent with those listed in the reference list. Manuscripts that contain these errors will be returned to the author before it is sent for peer review.

Copyright:

Authors must release copyright ownership to their manuscript at the time of its submission to the journal via Editorial Manager. This release must accompany the manuscript before processing for publication can begin. Accepted manuscripts become the property of the journal and may be reproduced in other publications in whole or in part with the permission of publisher.

General Information:

Articles submitted to the journal should not be submitted to another journal for consideration to be published.

All submitting authors are expected to read and follow the Springer Publishing Company Journals Policies and Statements.

Conflict of interest:

Authors must state all conflicts of interest related to content of articles. This includes financial, institutional, consultant, business, and other relationships that might lead to bias or a conflict of interest. If there are no conflicts of interest, state this explicitly as none are declared. Conflict of interest and source of funding statements are specified in the final stages of the ScholarOne submission process.

MANUSCRIPT PREPARATION

Use Microsoft Word for word-processing the manuscript; pdf files are not accepted. This includes the abstract, body of the manuscript (including references), tables, figures, and appendices. Formatting notes are included below.

Masked submissions: The manuscript should contain be no identifying information. The author should not include any of his/her/their information, including but not limited to name, credentials, institutional affiliation, and email address within the main body of the manuscript. For the submissions, indicate the name of the institution granting IRB approval with “XXX”; this information will be updated when a manuscript is accepted for publication.

Formatting of the manuscript:

- Double space all text, including quotations, lists, and references/notes.
- Left justify only.
- Leave a one-inch margin on all sides
- Number pages consecutively.
- Use 12 point, Times Roman font.
- Use double space format.
- Please key all titles in initial caps/lowercase.
- Only use one space between words. Even after periods, only use one space. Before saving your document, search for two spaces and if they occur, delete the extra space.
- Turn justification off. If it is turned on it will introduce additional spaces.
- Indent all new paragraphs

Organization of the manuscript:

1. Title page
2. Abstract, Keywords, and Public health significance:
  - a) an abstract in the form of one unstructured paragraph of 250 words maximum without subheadings or statistics,
  - b) up to 8 keywords,
  - c) and a statement of public health significance of 50 words maximum.

3. Main document: These headers are required--Introduction, Methods, Results, Discussion, Conclusions--
-for Full Length Articles, Brief Reports, and Systematic Reviews. Do not include numbers in any of the headings.
4. References: AMA Style

Numerical Results:

- Report all statistics (e.g. F, t etc.) and p values to 2 decimal places (hundredths place) except when  $p < .01$  or  $p < .001$
  - Never report  $p = .000$
- Report means, standard deviations, confidence intervals etc., to 2 decimal places (hundredths place)
- Report percentages, frequencies etc. to one decimal place (tenths place)
  - In text, percentages must be followed by (n) ex. 32.3% (n = 22)

Other sections of submission—each submitted separately:

- Tables and figures with legends
- Appendices

Abstract, Keywords and Public Health Significance:

Include an unstructured, narrative abstract of 250 words or fewer. The abstract should briefly highlight conclusions of the article and should not include statistics or sub-headings. Also include up to 8 keywords that describe the contents of the article like those that appear in The National Library of Medicine's Medical Subject Headings (MeSH). Finally summarize the public health significance of the manuscript in no more than 50 words.

Funding details:

Please supply all details required by your funding and grant-awarding bodies as follows:

- For single agency grants: "This work was supported by the [Funding Agency] under Grant [number xxxx]."
- For multiple agency grants: "This work was supported by the [Funding Agency #1] under Grant [number xxxx]; [Funding Agency #2] under Grant [number xxxx]; and [Funding Agency #3] under Grant [number xxxx]."

Permissions:

As the author, you are responsible for obtaining signed letters from the copyright holders granting permission to reprint material you are borrowing from other sources (including previously published material of your own). Permission is needed when you use any copyrighted table, figure, or illustration, and direct quotes of 200 words or more from a periodical article.

Any form or exhibit from a hospital or association that is copyrighted requires permission to reprint. All original, signed permission request letters must accompany the manuscript when you submit it to the journal. Type the permission notice (exactly as the copyright holder wishes it to appear) on your manuscript page, either close to or directly following the borrowed material.

- Permission to adapt. If you want to redraw, reword, modify, or adapt material being reprinted, you must obtain permission to do so from the copyright holder.
- Fee payment. Copyright holders sometimes require that a fee be paid before granting permission. It is the author's responsibility to pay this fee.

References:

References should be cited in text and styled in the reference list according to the Publication Manual of the American Medical Association (the most recent edition). Articles will be returned to the author prior to review if AMA style is not followed. The Editor will request a resubmission following revision according to AMA style. In short, in-text citations should be superscripted and should only appear AFTER terminal punctuation. They should not be regular numbers in parentheses/brackets or superscripted numbers appearing before terminal punctuation.

Tables/Figures:

The number of tables/figures is limited to 5 for Full Length articles and Systematic Reviews; 2 for Brief Reports. Each table/figure should be submitted as a separate file. Number tables and figures consecutively; mention all tables/figures in text. Supply a brief title for each table/figure.
